THE WOOL-GATHERED FAIRIES.

The Coming Extra Session of the Senate and Hargreaves of the Honorable Peckard's Appeal.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A correspondent has received with some very interesting and experienced politicians who have recently visited Washington and they are saying that the opposition to President Hayes' southern policy at the extra session will be widespread or at all formidable. The stand taken in the March session by Senator Connelley, the abolition of Don Cameron and Harlan; the administration, the recent declaration of the Illinois senators, and the loss of the president's support in the rebellion. The press has been full of the fact that the president's southern policy will not be maintained in the extra session, and that the president's southern policy will not be maintained in the extra session, and that the president's southern policy will not be maintained in the extra session.

Legislators are really in need of rest and quiet, and leisure, they ought to assemble in the old army building in Macon. This was not erected by "our fathers," but it is as quiet as Millville.

In this war business, England seems to be in the fix of the drunken man who was between the wagon-wheel and a pond of water. She doesn't know whether to turn loose or to fall in.

We hear it rumored that Colonel Mark A. Blandford's Hamilton speech is to be published by the opponents of a convention in circular shape for distribution in northern and southern Georgia.

From all appearances the "joint stock company" which proposes to erect a hotel at Millville, provided the capital is carried back there, are busy themselves largely.

It is stated that the Central and Georgia railroads will pass a league to the press convention for one fare. Members can get tickets over the other railroads by direct application.

There is talk of postponing the calling of congress until September, in order to give Hayes' southern policy time to "crystallize."

The Louisiana legislature rejoices in a returning board quorum. This ought to satisfy Colonel Everts, late of the Beecher business.

The expressmen's convention, which has been in session in Chicago, adjourned yesterday to meet in New Orleans next year.

There is nothing at all to prevent the Louisiana legislature from recognizing Peckard.

Mr. C. P. Feltman, a leading journalist of South Carolina, is dead.

Thousands of counterfeiters of coin is said to be rapidly increasing.

Our telegrams embody a mainly letter from Governor Nichols, of Louisiana.

THE PEOPLE AND POLITICIANS.

—John B. Baird is said to be the handsomest man who ever had a birth in the executive department.

—Colonel John M. Brown, the editor, and that of spirit, news and widely circulated weekly, the "Washington Herald," up from South Carolina. He is a live man and a hunting live man, and should be called upon by our mercantile friends to help them in their business.

—The "Herald" is getting interested in the impeachment of President Hayes. It is a very interesting subject, and the next thing we know will be making "Hayes a cock-tail" and "Hayes a cock-tail."

—The "Herald" party last night was a silent session. The ladies proved equal to the emergency, but some of the boys could not keep their heads in the presence of so many ladies who had no little to say. It cost Charles Harlan a good deal to keep his temper.

—An attorney General Elly is one of the most efficient and laborious officers of the new administration. He is a very good man, and a prompt in the discharge of his functions.

—Dr. Shirley Bragg is talking of going over to Europe and carrying the war against Turkey.

—George Edlinman, of the city, has invented an ingenious and unconquerable combination key-hole protector. It is a valuable invention.

—The "bloody" word has now great fun out of B. L. Lay's name, and now get much more out of B. L. Lay's.

A Direct Trade Failure.

LIVERPOOL, April 19.—The Liverpool and Texas Steamship company (limited) have determined upon voluntary liquidation in consequence of the depression in freights and the unprofitableness of the steamship trade. The company's steamers will be sold and are not expected to realize more than enough to meet all the liabilities.

The Cincinnati Southern.

CINCINNATI, April 19.—At a meeting of the citizens a committee was appointed to form a company to lease the Cincinnati Southern railroad under the provisions of the common carrier's bill.

Good Nighting Down the Hill.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The failures of R. A. Hill and B. W. Martin, gold brokers, were announced in the gold exchange yesterday morning. Their liabilities are $50,000 to $75,000 each.

Bridge Closes Off the States.

LONDON, April 19.—Hidalgo of the New York Herald, Chatham, 24; Morning Star, 3d.

Donna won the Tye handicap plate; Urena, 2d; Play Fair, 3d.
